

INK+PAPER+PASSION

IMPECCABLE PRINTING

Whether it's a postcard, an annual report or a curated museum piece, we print everything like it's a work of art.

By the time a brochure, an annual report or a catalog lands on someone's desk, countless artists, writers, production managers and others have labored long and hard. Those who create these printed communications see their work as copy and design coming together to create a work of art.

Wouldn't it be a shame to have that labor of creative love destroyed by a bad printing process?

At Mpress we love the creative process and respect the work you do. No printer pays more attention to the finest of details than we do...so that your work comes to life.

To us, “Green” is not just placing a conservation logo on your printed piece. We believe it is just as important to provide a clean, green environment for our employees and customers. Here are just a few examples:

- Our building uses solar energy, providing 30% of production energy
- We recycle 100% of our waste paper and ink from production processes
- Our processes use extremely low VOC chemicals and soy-based inks
- Our papers are from sustainable growing sources and available with recycled content.

GREEN. A COLOR AND A PASSION.

FOCUS

From our Crossroads location in the heart of Kansas City, the Myers family and our Mpress staff are dedicated to the art of printing. While other printers may chase trends or outbid one another for projects, we maintain a singular focus — to be the printer of choice when impeccable printing is paramount to success.

From fine art reproductions for the most discerning artists to printing for the world's largest greeting card company — what comes off an Mpress printing press is nothing short of remarkable in quality and consistency.

Let's talk about your upcoming printing projects.
